ABSTRACT

An acupuncture needle essentially in harmony with the Golden Ratio of approximately 1.618 provides the expectation and perception of certain harmonic energy-related benefits for followers of the Golden Ratio. Both the ratio of handle length to exposed needle length and the ratio of the combined handle length and exposed needle length to the handle length are substantially essentially in harmony with the Golden Ratio, while both the handle width and the needle width are essential decimal harmonics of the Golden Ratio.